Gemini Launch Is Slated for This Afternoon

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Relaxed by a day of fishing, two primed astronauts were ready to ride the Gemini 10 spacecraft today on a bold dual-rendezvous and space-walk adventure that could take them farther from earth than man has yet venture.

Navy Com. John W. Young, veteran of last year's Gemini 3 flight, and Air Force Maj. Michael Collins had most of the day to prepare for their three-day journey among the stars.

Their Titan 2 was scheduled to blast off at 6:21 p.m. EDT. An Atlas was to vault skyward 101 minutes earlier — at 4:40 p.m. — to hurl an Agena space vehicle into orbit as a chase target for the astronauts.

With all preparations proceeding smoothly, Young and Collins took a day off Sunday and went fishing in the Atlantic off Cape Kennedy.

Adjusting to a sleep schedule that will keep them up late each night in space, they retired about 3 a.m. this morning, and space officials hoped they'd sleep until after noon.

The late afternoon launch times were dictated by the position of another Agena left in space last March by the Gemini 8 pilots.

After catching and linking up with their Agena late tonight, Young and Collins plan to fire the target satellite's powerful engine to shoot to a record altitude of perhaps 468 miles to position themselves for a tricky rendezvous with the Gemini 8 Agena Wednesday.

Collins is to take a space walk over to the old Agena — which he has dubbed a "dead bird" because it has no battery power. This is one of two 55-minute work periods he plans outside the Gemini 10 spacecraft. The first is to be a simple "stand up" maneuver Tuesday during which he'll open his hatch, poke the upper half of his body into space and conduct scientific and photographic experiments.

"Almost everything we do will be directly applicable to the Apollo man-to-the-moon program," commented command pilot Young. "Anything we learn about space flight also will be applied to planning for planetary missions."

At the outset of their flight, Young and Collins will try something new — do-it-yourself navigation. Using the spacecraft inertial guidance system, a sextant to make star and horizon readings and a spacecraft computer, they'll plot the maneuvers needed to pursue Agena 10 over a 103,000-mile course, catching it after a five-hour chase during their fourth orbit 185 miles above the earth.

On earlier Gemini rendezvous flights the figuring was done mainly by computers on the ground, which will be a backup this time.

"If you're going to go to the moon," Young explained, "you have to have this ability in the event that there's no contact with the ground. Certainly, if you're going to the planets you've got to have on-board navigation capability."

An hour after catching the Agena 10 — shortly before midnight — Young is to insert the nose of Gemini 10 into a docking collar on one end of the 26-foot Agena, clamping the two vehicles firmly together.

Airline Strike Talks Continue

Weekend Progress At Turtle Pace

WASHINGTON (AP) — Representatives of five struck airlines and the machinists' union met again today in an attempt to quicken the pace of negotiations in the 10-day dispute.

Assistant Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds, saying the movement of the talks was "extremely slow," compared the pace to that of two turtles.

The carriers announced Sunday night that 65,880 airline personnel would be out of work today because of the strike. The figure included striking members of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists and other workers who have been furloughed.

But some 1,100 Trans World Airlines employes, who walked off the job at Cape Kennedy, Fla., when the strike began July 8, voted Sunday by a 3-2 margin to return to work today.

TWA holds the prime contract for the nation's moon launch operations on Merritt Island, adjacent to Cape Kennedy. It provides manpower for supply, maintenance and other housekeeping tasks.

The TWA workers agreed to work under terms of their old contract until a new one is agreed upon. Union officials said Sunday night picket lines around the installation would be removed immediately.

In addition to TWA, the lines involved are Eastern, National, Northwest and United.

Reynolds, presiding over the talks in Washington, said Sunday night the only progress Sunday was a free exchange of views on the "substantive issues — certain of the national issues."

There are eight of these major problems, including wages, pensions, hospitalization, vacations, overtime and holiday pay.

7 Boys in Car Blamed For Smashed Windows

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Five boys, riding around in an automobile, were blamed for at least 16 instances of broken business house windows here early today. They managed to get away from a police pursuit.

Police estimated damage totaled at least $5,000.

A witness gave officers the description of the youths and their car and said the boys were throwing chunks of wood, rocks and stones at the windows.

Ohio Legion Picks Chiefs, Raps Antioch

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The American Legion of Ohio, with an optometrist as its new commander, would like Congress to cast its eyes on the American Civil Liberties Union and the Antioch College community.

The Buckeye Legionnaires, at their 48th annual convention over the weekend, resolved to put before the national convention in Washington proposals for investigations of the ACLU and Yellow Springs.

The 1967 state convention was awarded to Cincinnati.

The legion elevated Dr. Michael Chakeres of London from first vice commander to state commander, succeeding C. William Heacock of Columbus.

Robert Philip McBride of Cincinnati was elected the new first vice commander, in line as Chakeres' likely successor in 1967.

Other new officers are Roger A. Munson, Cleveland, second vice commander; Merritt McClain, Ashland, treasurer; Joseph S. Deutschle Sr., Columbus national executive committeeman, and Vernon E. Allen, Cleveland alternate committeeman.

Referring to Yellow Springs, a west central Ohio community, the Legion said the "same conditions continue to exist" as the national convention in 1964 said should be investigated by Congress.

Demonstrations and other activities there, the resolution read, manifest "lack of interest for law and order and are a danger and a nuisance to the American public."

Cop Is Honored, Dies

LOS ANGELES (AP — William T. Parker, 64, for 16 years the head of Los Angeles' 5,000-man police force, died Saturday of a heart attack after an affair during which he was cited for outstanding service.

RICHARD F. SPECK

Cop-Deacon Plays Censor, Halts 'Virginia Woolf'

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) A police sergeant who once gave tickets to two meter maids for illegal parking has shut down the movie "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" in Nashville.

"I represent the thinking of the good people of this town," said Sgt. Fred Cobb, a soft-spoken Baptist deacon and Sunday School teacher. "I just don't feel like they would approve of this type of film for young people to see."

After sitting through the film Saturday night, Cobb returned Sunday night with a warrant for the arrest of theater manager Lawrence Martin Kerrigan, 55. Kerrigan later was released on $50 bond to appear today in city court.

Cobb confiscated one reel of the film, and then mounted the stage to tell some 700 moviegoers why the picture had been stopped. They got their money back.

Cobb's warrant said the film, which stars Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton, violated a city ordinance banning profanity on the screen.

"It's a disgrace," said Cobb. "I couldn't rest easy without doing something about it. It seems to tear down everything that is decent and worthwhile in our society.

"It used God's name in vain several times and tried to belittle modern day evangelists such as Billy Graham and others."

Theaters showing the movie are required by the producer to advertise that no one under 18 will be admitted unless accompanied by a parent.

"I don't know why any one man should want to set himself up as a censoring board," E.D. Martin, co-owner of Martin Theaters told the Nashville Tennessean from Columbus, Ga. The movie opened Friday at a Martin theater here.

"It is one of the greatest pictures of the year," he said. "It is an artistic achievement and the true meaning of the picture is not in the language."

The movie, adapted from the Broadway play by Edward Albee, recounts a long, wild party given by a New England professor and his wife for a new faculty member and his wife.

Cobb once ticketed the scooters of two meter maids for parking in a bus zone while they took a lunch break. He has given a ticket to a deputy U.S. marshal for double-parking at the court house.

In February 1960, Cobb arrested city comptroller William F. Burton for disorderly conduct because he said he heard Burton use profanity. Burton was acquitted.

Joe Kennedy Rests Following attack

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) — Former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, father of the late president, was reported resting easier today after suffering what doctors described as a mild heart attack Sunday at his home.

Kennedy was not taken to a hospital.

A spokesman for the family said today that the 77-year-old Kennedy was in relatively "excellent condition," considering his age and medical history.

Dr. Russell S. Boles of Welesley, the former ambassador's personal physician, was flown to Boston this morning aboard the family plane. Dr. Boles spent the night at the Kennedy compound.

Methodists, Vatican Agree on Study Group

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Roman Catholic Church and the World Methodist Church Council announced today creation of a joint committee to explore ways for common Christian study and action.

The WMC and the Vatican's secretariat for promoting Christian unity told of the plan in a joint statement. They said they would announce in early fall who would serve on the committee and when it would first meet.

State Shrugs At Magazine Financial Flop

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP)—The "Wonderful World of Ohio" magazine may be losing money but state officials said today they are not excited about it.

Natural Resources Director Fred E. Morr conceded that the publication has fallen about $250,000 short of costs in its first year but he added:

"We regard this magazine as a responsibility. Government is not in business to make a profit."

"It cannot be losing money if its purpose is being met, and we feel that it is," he said.

Department figures showed the magazine last month had subscriptions of about 56,000. Newsstand sales have averaged about 6,000-7,000 a month. The state was having 100,000 copies printed each month but Morr said this now has been cut to 70,000.

He also said that the old Ohio Conservation Magazine, which "Wonderful World" replaced, always operated in the red.

Miss Universe 'Can't' Go Home

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The new Miss Universe, who will be offered the keys to countless cities around the world during her year's reign, said today she can never return to her hometown of Gothenburg, Sweden.

"The people there will all say how can she be Miss Universe," explained Margareta Arvidsson.

"I'll never go home to that town again so they can see me. It is a small town and they will all think I'm very stuck on myself," added the professional model who was also voted the most photogenic of the 58 contestants.

Massacre Survivor Sees Slaying Suspect

Prison Hospital Holds Man, 25

Initial Hearing Is Postponed

CHICAGO (AP)—A nurse who survived the massacre of eight of her dormitory mates visited a jail hospital today to view the man charged with murdering one of them.

But authorities said that Richard Speck, 24, accused in the mass slayings, was ruled unfit to appear in court to hear the murder charge against him because of his physical condition. He is under treatment for self-inflicted wounds.

State's Atty. Daniel Ward told reporters, "There will be no court appearance today upon the medical advice of the doctors."

He said that Dr. William Norcross, associate medical director of the City Jail Hospital, asserted that Speck still is substantially under the effects of sedation.

Ward was asked whether Miss Corazon Amurao, 23, the only survivor of Thursday's killing orgy, who was brought to the jail, had identified Speck as the killer.

"I can't make any comment on that," he said.

Miss Amurao spent 2½ hours in the house of correction. Police have guarded her as closely as they have Speck, and kept her secluded from newsmen.

John Stamos, first assistant state's attorney, indicated earlier that Speck's appearance might be held in a court session in the jail.

The nationwide hunt for Speck ended in a skid row flophouse when a tenant saw Speck staggering down a hallway, collered with blood. The tenant called the desk clerk and he summoned police.

Police placed a tourniquet on the profusely bleeding left arm and took the man, reeking from alcohol and unconscious, to Cook County Hospital.

But a young surgeon who had just read a newspaper recognized a tattoo and summoned police. This came less than 15 hours after a murder warrant had been issued for Speck.

Detectives theorized that Speck drank himself into a stupor and tried to commit suicide after he saw a drinking buddy in the back seat of a police car.

Detective John Mitchell said Speck may have spotted Robert Gerrald in the back of a squad car as police toured skid row in a systematic search for Speck Friday night and Saturday.

Mitchell said Speck may have reasoned "he had run out of time," and attempted to kill himself.

Authoritieis said he used either a broken bottle or knife to slash his arm and wrist. He lost 1½ pints of blood.

Police picked Gerrald up Friday afternoon after witnesses reported seeing Gerrald with Speck in a rooming house Thursday afternoon.

Police said Gerrald told them he and Speck discussed the nurses' massacre while drinking in a tavern the morning the bodies were found.

Gerrald said Speck told him: "It must have been a sex maniac who did that crime."

The story unfolded all day Sunday as details of police activity were made public.

The young surgeon, Dr. Leroy Smith, 26, worked on the bloodied man — who was registered in the Starr Hotel as B. Brain — in the emergency room

Presidential Airliners To Be Put on Display

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Two presidential airplanes, President Truman's C118 "Independence" and President Eisenhower's C1 "Columbine", will be on display at nearby Wright-Patterson Air-Force Base July 23-24

The planes recently were acquired by the Air Force Museum located at the base. Officials said the public will be permitted to inspect the interior of the planes which will be on display at the Wright Field area of the base and not at the museum itself.

Miss Trimmer Will Retain Happy Pageant Memories

By RICHARD DAVIS

Sharon Elaine Phillian, Delaware, was crowned Miss Ohio of 1966 Saturday at Cedar Point. But none of the 32 entries had any more fun during the week-long pageant than Linda Sue Trimmer — Miss South Central Ohio.

For Linda the week will be cherished among her fondest memories. It was chock full of excitement and glamour for the Ohio State University sophomore.

Today Linda and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Trimmer, Route 4, departed Cleveland via jet airliner for a vacation in Alaska.

The new Miss Ohio, who will be a senior at OSU this fall, won the statewide beauty pageant on her third attempt. For her talent routine, which won tremendous applause, Miss Phillian appeared in a gown she had designed herself.

SHE STARTED by singing in French "The Bell Song" from "Lochne". Halfway through the aria she broke it off with "Phooey, that's enough of that French — underneath I'm an American girl." With this she took off her evening gown to disclose a red, white and blue costume and burst into the rousing patriotic theme, "This Is My Country."

Miss Trimmer and her parents attended a reception in honor of the new Miss Ohio following the Saturday evening telecast of the crowning.

The seven - day event began on Monday for the pageant contestants. Dinners, parades, press interviews, picture - taking sessions, rehearsals for the pageant and interview with the panel of judges consumed a greater part of the week.

Linda, like all the other girls, was under the supervision of a hostess throughout the week. She was not permitted in public without her assigned guardian.

Parents were not permitted to

Once Around Roundtown

AN INCREASED weekend traffic accident rate has alarmed Circleville Municipal Judge Sterling M. Lamb to the point where he has announced a new appearance bond schedule . . .

Judge Lamb today said the new schedule, designed to insure the traffic violator's appearance in court, will be in effect from 6 p. m. Friday until midnight Sunday beginning immediately . . .

The old rate will go back in effect in September after the summer holiday season comes to a close, Judge Lamb said...

Before the long Memorial Day weekend, Judge Lamb announced a special "holiday rate" in which motorists cited for traffic violations had to post a much higher bond than previously required . . .

This rate is in effect for all holidays.

TRIBUTE was paid to Mrs. Marguerite H. Lamb who celebrated her 100th birthday June 26, in the July issue of the Norfolk and Western Magazine . . .

Mrs. Lamb, mother of Municipal Judge Sterling M. Lamb is a retired N & W operator . . . She worked for the company 39 years . . .

The story, appearing in the publication, pointed out that Mrs. Lamb was commended for prompt action in preventing a runaway caboose from being derailed on July 24, 1924.

Getting into Battle Zone Has Hazards for Marines

SONG NGAN VALLEY, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Marine helicopters slanted sharply down into the valley with tracer bullets streaking by from enemy guns on the hills below.

It was just after dawn and the first wave of Leathernecks aboard looked like some mixture of football players and medieval knights in the armored vests that swelled their bodies to giant size. Their faces were dusty and bearded.

It wouldn't be the enemy fire that was to get some of them. It would be the hazards of the terrain and the confusion of battle in the landing zone that would take the initial toll in Operation Hastings — a joint Marine-South Vietnamese action to draw out and destroy a North Vietnamese army force 2,000 yards from the demilitarized zone dividing North and South Viet Nam.

The headquarters unit of the 324th North Vietnamese Division was reported to be near here. It was Friday and the move was on to trap them.

The first helicopters knifed into the clearing and lowered their rear landing ramps.

At once, the Marines saw the difficulty of their position. Steep hills ringed the landing zone. Enemy troops on the slopes kept a constant stream of fire on the clearing.

As the helicopters took off, strong gusts of wind ripped across the valley. Trees that had appeared small from high up now towered 100 feet at the edge of the small clearing.

The second wave of helicopters came in and the hills echoed with bursts of machine gun fire.

One helicopter set down in a hole and a man was thrown out. His arm was broken. A second helicopter loaded with troops plowed into a tree.

The wreckage blocked half of the landing zone.

Two more helicopters tried to land in a small field with a high bamboo fence. As they hovered and troops started to jump out, their rotor blades touched. The planes swayed together in an ear-jarring crunch that broke both in two.

As the dust settled, flames started to lick up the side of one of the aircraft. Marines scrambled frantically for safety. They stumbled and crawled over human limbs and bodies cut by the flapping blades that slashed like huge swords.

Other Marines were wounded by flying debris that showered the landing zone like shrapnel.

From an observation plan, the battalion commander, Lt. Col. Summer Vale of Rhode Island watched the chaos.

"When I first saw all those puffs of dust I thought it was a mortar attack. Then I realized they came from chunks of the helicopters bursting through the air," he said later.

August Draft Call Is 40

August draft call for Pickaway County has been set at 40 men, according to the Pickaway County Selective Service office.

Mrs. Lucile Warren, board clerk, said the August call has also requested 22 men for examination in addition to the 40 slated for induction.

According to Mrs. Warren, the call will be filled without having to dip into the files of men between the ages of 26 and 35 years. No married men are scheduled for the August draft call either, although the state Selective Service headquarters may issue supplementary summons that could include these classifications, the clerk noted.

Total August draft call for Ohio is 3,395, up from 2,785 last month.

State officials said the August "gross" call would lead to the induction of 2,207 men compared with 1,671 entering the service this month.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The new Miss Universe, who will be offered the keys to countless cities around the world during her year's reign, said today she can never return to her hometown of Gothenburg, Sweden.

"The people there will all say how can she be Miss Universe," explained Margareta Arvidsson.

"I'll never go home to that town again so they can see me. It is a small town and they will all think I'm very stuck on myself," added the professional model who was also voted the most photogenic of the 58 contestants.

Massacre Survivor Sees Slaying Suspect

Prison Hospital Holds Man, 25

Initial Hearing Is Postponed

CHICAGO (AP)—A nurse who survived the massacre of eight of her dormitory mates visited a jail hospital today to view the man charged with murdering one of them.

But authorities said that Richard Speck, 24, accused in the mass slayings, was ruled unfit to appear in court to hear the murder charge against him because of his physical condition. He is under treatment for self-inflicted wounds.

State's Atty. Daniel Ward told reporters, "There will be no court appearance today upon the medical advice of the doctors."

He said that Dr. William Norcross, associate medical director of the City Jail Hospital, asserted that Speck still is substantially under the effects of sedation.

Ward was asked whether Miss Corazon Amurao, 23, the only survivor of Thursday's killing orgy, who was brought to the jail, had identified Speck as the killer.

"I can't make any comment on that," he said.

Miss Amurao spent 2½ hours in the house of correction. Police have guarded her as closely as they have Speck, and kept her secluded from newsmen.

John Stamos, first assistant state's attorney, indicated earlier that Speck's appearance might be held in a court session in the jail.

The nationwide hunt for Speck ended in a skid row flophouse when a tenant saw Speck staggering down a hallway, collered with blood. The tenant called the desk clerk and he summoned police.

Police placed a tourniquet on the profusely bleeding left arm and took the man, reeking from alcohol and unconscious, to Cook County Hospital.

But a young surgeon who had just read a newspaper recognized a tattoo and summoned police. This came less than 15 hours after a murder warrant had been issued for Speck.

Detectives theorized that Speck drank himself into a stupor and tried to commit suicide after he saw a drinking buddy in the back seat of a police car.

Detective John Mitchell said Speck may have spotted Robert Gerrald in the back of a squad car as police toured skid row in a systematic search for Speck Friday night and Saturday.

Mitchell said Speck may have reasoned "he had run out of time," and attempted to kill himself.

Authoritieis said he used either a broken bottle or knife to slash his arm and wrist. He lost 1½ pints of blood.

Police picked Gerrald up Friday afternoon after witnesses reported seeing Gerrald with Speck in a rooming house Thursday afternoon.

Police said Gerrald told them he and Speck discussed the nurses' massacre while drinking in a tavern the morning the bodies were found.

Gerrald said Speck told him: "It must have been a sex maniac who did that crime."

The story unfolded all day Sunday as details of police activity were made public.

The young surgeon, Dr. Leroy Smith, 26, worked on the bloodied man — who was registered in the Starr Hotel as B. Brain — in the emergency room

Presidential Airliners To Be Put on Display

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Two presidential airplanes, President Truman's C118 "Independence" and President Eisenhower's C1 "Columbine", will be on display at nearby Wright-Patterson Air-Force Base July 23-24

The planes recently were acquired by the Air Force Museum located at the base. Officials said the public will be permitted to inspect the interior of the planes which will be on display at the Wright Field area of the base and not at the museum itself.

Miss Trimmer Will Retain Happy Pageant Memories

By RICHARD DAVIS

Sharon Elaine Phillian, Delaware, was crowned Miss Ohio of 1966 Saturday at Cedar Point. But none of the 32 entries had any more fun during the week-long pageant than Linda Sue Trimmer — Miss South Central Ohio.

For Linda the week will be cherished among her fondest memories. It was chock full of excitement and glamour for the Ohio State University sophomore.

Today Linda and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Trimmer, Route 4, departed Cleveland via jet airliner for a vacation in Alaska.

The new Miss Ohio, who will be a senior at OSU this fall, won the statewide beauty pageant on her third attempt. For her talent routine, which won tremendous applause, Miss Phillian appeared in a gown she had designed herself.

SHE STARTED by singing in French "The Bell Song" from "Lochne". Halfway through the aria she broke it off with "Phooey, that's enough of that French — underneath I'm an American girl." With this she took off her evening gown to disclose a red, white and blue costume and burst into the rousing patriotic theme, "This Is My Country."

Miss Trimmer and her parents attended a reception in honor of the new Miss Ohio following the Saturday evening telecast of the crowning.

The seven - day event began on Monday for the pageant contestants. Dinners, parades, press interviews, picture - taking sessions, rehearsals for the pageant and interview with the panel of judges consumed a greater part of the week.

Linda, like all the other girls, was under the supervision of a hostess throughout the week. She was not permitted in public without her assigned guardian.

Parents were not permitted to

Once Around Roundtown

AN INCREASED weekend traffic accident rate has alarmed Circleville Municipal Judge Sterling M. Lamb to the point where he has announced a new appearance bond schedule . . .

Judge Lamb today said the new schedule, designed to insure the traffic violator's appearance in court, will be in effect from 6 p. m. Friday until midnight Sunday beginning immediately . . .

The old rate will go back in effect in September after the summer holiday season comes to a close, Judge Lamb said...

Before the long Memorial Day weekend, Judge Lamb announced a special "holiday rate" in which motorists cited for traffic violations had to post a much higher bond than previously required . . .

This rate is in effect for all holidays.

TRIBUTE was paid to Mrs. Marguerite H. Lamb who celebrated her 100th birthday June 26, in the July issue of the Norfolk and Western Magazine . . .

Mrs. Lamb, mother of Municipal Judge Sterling M. Lamb is a retired N & W operator . . . She worked for the company 39 years . . .

The story, appearing in the publication, pointed out that Mrs. Lamb was commended for prompt action in preventing a runaway caboose from being derailed on July 24, 1924.

Getting into Battle Zone Has Hazards for Marines

SONG NGAN VALLEY, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Marine helicopters slanted sharply down into the valley with tracer bullets streaking by from enemy guns on the hills below.

It was just after dawn and the first wave of Leathernecks aboard looked like some mixture of football players and medieval knights in the armored vests that swelled their bodies to giant size. Their faces were dusty and bearded.

It wouldn't be the enemy fire that was to get some of them. It would be the hazards of the terrain and the confusion of battle in the landing zone that would take the initial toll in Operation Hastings — a joint Marine-South Vietnamese action to draw out and destroy a North Vietnamese army force 2,000 yards from the demilitarized zone dividing North and South Viet Nam.

The headquarters unit of the 324th North Vietnamese Division was reported to be near here. It was Friday and the move was on to trap them.

The first helicopters knifed into the clearing and lowered their rear landing ramps.

At once, the Marines saw the difficulty of their position. Steep hills ringed the landing zone. Enemy troops on the slopes kept a constant stream of fire on the clearing.

As the helicopters took off, strong gusts of wind ripped across the valley. Trees that had appeared small from high up now towered 100 feet at the edge of the small clearing.

The second wave of helicopters came in and the hills echoed with bursts of machine gun fire.

One helicopter set down in a hole and a man was thrown out. His arm was broken. A second helicopter loaded with troops plowed into a tree.

The wreckage blocked half of the landing zone.

Two more helicopters tried to land in a small field with a high bamboo fence. As they hovered and troops started to jump out, their rotor blades touched. The planes swayed together in an ear-jarring crunch that broke both in two.

As the dust settled, flames started to lick up the side of one of the aircraft. Marines scrambled frantically for safety. They stumbled and crawled over human limbs and bodies cut by the flapping blades that slashed like huge swords.

Other Marines were wounded by flying debris that showered the landing zone like shrapnel.

From an observation plan, the battalion commander, Lt. Col. Summer Vale of Rhode Island watched the chaos.

"When I first saw all those puffs of dust I thought it was a mortar attack. Then I realized they came from chunks of the helicopters bursting through the air," he said later.

August Draft Call Is 40

August draft call for Pickaway County has been set at 40 men, according to the Pickaway County Selective Service office.

Mrs. Lucile Warren, board clerk, said the August call has also requested 22 men for examination in addition to the 40 slated for induction.

According to Mrs. Warren, the call will be filled without having to dip into the files of men between the ages of 26 and 35 years. No married men are scheduled for the August draft call either, although the state Selective Service headquarters may issue supplementary summons that could include these classifications, the clerk noted.

Total August draft call for Ohio is 3,395, up from 2,785 last month.

State officials said the August "gross" call would lead to the induction of 2,207 men compared with 1,671 entering the service this month.

Pearson Article Is Labeled False, Distorted by Harsha

William H. Harsha, Ohio 6th District congressman, today labeled an article by columnist Drew Pearson as false, misleading and distorted.

Pearson's article contends Harsha did not list in the Congressional Directory that he is a member of the law firm of Kimble, Schapiro, Stevens, Harsha & Harsha in Portsmouth, and that the firm has prospered by its representation of big companies having legislation before Congress. The columnist's remarks were pressed further by Ottie W. Reno of Pike County, Democratic candidate for the 6th District congressional seat.

The article dwells on legislation regarding transportation and oil imports. Companies mentioned as being represented by Harsha's law firm were Greyhound Lines and Phillips Petroleum and Ashland Refining.

In responding to the article, the Republican congressman said, "My law firm has never represented any firm in respect to legislation before the Congress. Furthermore, I have an agreement with the firm that should they represent any client in a matter that has any connection, either directly or indirecty, with the federal government, I am not to share in the fees."

The incumbent solon, referring to Reno's contentions, said: "He has been deliberately misrepresenting my voting records and distorting and falsifying the results of my activities in Congress in an effort to win votes.

"The columnist was correct when he stated I did not list my firm's name in the Congressional Directory. I omitted the firm name deliberately," Harsha said, "so that the Washington lobbyists and pressure groups wouldn't be engaging the firm. Placing the firm's name in the directory," he continued "would only serve as an invitation to others to attempt to influence me by employing my law firm and this is what I was trying to avoid."

"It isn't necessary to list the firm name for the benefit of the citizns of the 6th District," he stated, "I have been associated with the firm since 1947 and practiced law in practically every county in the district under the firm name and the majority of the citizens in the district are aware I'm associated with the firm."

Harsha stated that contrary to the allegation, his law firm does not represent any of the companies mentioned by the columnist, and the opponent, on a retainer basis, but serves only as legal work develops.

talk with their daughters for most of the week. However, following pageant presentations on Thursday and Friday nights, mothers and fathers were allowed brief chats with the contestants.

Mistress of ceremonies for the three - evening pageant finals was Miss Maria Fletcher who reigned as Miss America in 1962.

FOR HER evening gown presentation, Miss Trimmer chose a subdued yellow. This also was the color selection for her bathing suit appearance.

Linda, one of the youngest contestants, felt no disappointment at all when the event was over. Lacking somewhat in self-confidence, or maybe its modesty, she had made her own selections for the finalists which were pretty close to the judges' choices.

Summing up the weeklong pageant, Linda said she received an education money could not buy and had more fun than "ever before in my life."

She represented the six-county area well as Miss South Central Ohio.

Drag Racer Is Handed Heavy Muny Court Fine

An 18-year-old motorist cited by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department was handed a stiff penalty today by Municipal Judge Sterling M. Lamb for drag racing.

Ronald E. Smith, 18, Ashville, was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to 60 days in the County Jail.

Also cited for operating a motor vehicle while his license was under revocation, Smith was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 15 days in jail.

The jail terms are to be served consecutively, Judge Lamb ruled.

In handing down the penalty, the judge noted Smith's license had been revoked Sept. 3, 1965 for drag racing.

Two juveniles, apprehended along with Smith by the Sheriff's Department, have been cited to appear in Juvenile Court.

Two motorists cited for driving while under the influence of intoxicants, also appeared in Court today.

David Anderson Leist, 26, 614 S. Clinton St., was fined $200 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and had his driving rights suspended for six months.

Doyle Oakley Rapp, 39, Logan, was fined $200 and costs, sentenced to 15 days, with 12 days suspended and had his driving rights suspended for one year.

Appearing in court Friday James Toles, 62, 642 S. Scioto St., was fined $200 and costs, sentenced to 15 days in the County Jail and had his driving rights suspended for one year. The court suspended 12 days of the jail term.

James Kilpatrick, 39, Saraland, Ala., was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to two days in the county jail for driving while his license was under revocation.

The State Highway Patrol's traffic control plane was in the air over the measured mile on Route 23 Friday, resulting in an unusually heavy load of speeders on the court's traffic docket.

Fined $15 and costs for exceeding the speed limit by 15 miles per hour were:

James K. Arnold, 18, Grove City; Terry Foster, 19, Jackson; Charles Kisor, 27 Ashville; Elijah Midkiff 42, Charleston, W. Va., Robert Lee Giffin, 38, Reynoldsburg; Perry Coleman 31, Columbus.

Other speeding motorists were:

Beuford Carroll Foster 27, Holland, Mich.; $17 and costs for speeding 77 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

William Tackett, 25, Portsmouth; $25 and costs for speeding 77 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Don Galton, 21, Findlay; $30 and costs for speeding 83 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Charles Bryant, 41, Galloway, $30 and costs for speeding 81 miles per hour in a 60mile zone.

David Sidney, 38, Columbus; $25 and costs for speeding 75 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Billy Kersey, 21, Poca, W. Va.; $25 and costs for speeding 75 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

John Mathews, 23, Marietta; $25 and costs for speeding 77 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Ralph Nagel, 54, Portsmouth, $30 and costs for speeding 80 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Basil White, Charleston, W. Va.; $25 and costs for speeding 80 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Carlos Sheppard, 21, Dayton; $19 bond forfeiture for speeding 70 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Hassel Deel, 21, Dearborn, Mich.; $40 bond forfeituure for speeding 80 miles pr hour in a 60 mile zone.

Jerry Nichols, 19, River Rouge Mich.; $40 bond forfeiture for speeding 83 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Record Film Plan Studied By Board

A microfilming program for certain Courthouse records was studied today by Pickaway County's Board of Commissioners.

The program is being considered for records maintained in the County Recorder's office, Clerk of Courts and Juvenile - Probate Court. Offering information on such a plan was Phillip R. Durkin, representing the Recordak Co., a division of Eastman Kodak.

Durkin submitted prices on equipment necessary to initiate the program. Most of the gear could be acquired on either a purchase or rental basis.

Essential items would include a camera and a micro file machine.

LLOYD MELVIN, commission chairman, said the three department heads concerned would be contacted prior to making a decision on the filming program.

Other morning business centered on providing insurance for radio equipment housed at the Courthouse and the County Jail.

as just another slashing case until he saw something under the coat of blood.

"I moistened my finger tips and rubbed," Dr. Smith said. "I saw a b. I rubbed some more and saw b-o-r-n."

It was the first word of a tattoo reading "born to raise hell."

Dr. Smith recalled the newspaper article and quickly washed the blood off the arm.

The tattoo was one of the identifying marks flashed across the continent 15 hours previously.

"What's your name?" Dr. Smith asked the man.

"Richard, Richard Speck," he answered weakly.

"This is the fellow police are looking for," Dr. Smith told a nurse. "Get hold of the police right now."

At one point, Dr. Smith said, Speck looked up and asked: "Will you get the $10,000?"

"I just walked away," the young surgeon said.

The reference was to the $10,000 reward offered by the South Chicago Community Hospital, where the student nurses trained.

When Speck was coming out of the anesthesia, the doctor quoted him as saying: "I'm scared. I'm scared."

As details of the police investigation were revealed Sunday it showed that Speck might be tied to the mass murder partly by his desire to reach New Orleans.

The only survivor of the massacre, Corazon Amurao, 23, a Filipino exchange nurse, told police the killer had said to the nurses he would not harm them that he only wanted to get money so he could reach New Orleans.

Then, Miss Amurao said, the man coolly and methodically took her eight friends into other rooms one at a time and strangled or slashed them to death.

Miss Amurao escaped the slaughter by rolling under a bed while the man was killing a nurse in another room.

Youths Injured In Car Crash

Two youths received minor injuries at 1:30 a.m. Sunday when the car they were operating went out of control on the Dawson-Yankeetown Road six miles west of Circlevile.

Mr. Kern is survived by four sons, Howard, George and Robert, all of Route 1, Williamsport, and Orville of Florida; three daughters, Mrs. Medreth Eddard of Ashville, Mrs. Paline Wertz of Texas and Mrs. Mary Bracey of California: 22 grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

Court Hears $1.70 Case

Common Pleas Judge William Ammer disposed of a case Saturday involving two men who were bound to the grand jury for failing to pay a $1.70 tab at a local bar.

The men, David Ellyson of Columbus and Maurice Graves of Chillicothe, were charged in Circleville Municipal Court with defrauding an inn keeper. They allegedly refused to pay $1.70 for drinks consumed in the bar at Prairie Lanes.

The duo appeared before the court on bills of information and charges were reduced to larceny by trick by order of the court. The charge, after litigation, turned out to be a misdeameanor due to the amount involved.

Judge Ammer sentenced the men to 30 days in jail and fined each $50 and costs. Credit was given the men for 17 days spent in jail, and the remainder of the sentence plus the fines were suspended.

However, the court ordered that they pay the $1.70 to Prairie Lanes "stay out of places selling intoxicants" and pay the court costs.

James Kilpatrick, 39, Saraland, Ala., was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to two days in the county jail for driving while his license was under revocation.

The State Highway Patrol's traffic control plane was in the air over the measured mile on Route 23 Friday, resulting in an unusually heavy load of speeders on the court's traffic docket.

Fined $15 and costs for exceeding the speed limit by 15 miles per hour were:

James K. Arnold, 18, Grove City; Terry Foster, 19, Jackson; Charles Kisor, 27 Ashville; Elijah Midkiff 42, Charleston, W. Va., Robert Lee Giffin, 38, Reynoldsburg; Perry Coleman 31, Columbus.

Other speeding motorists were:

Beuford Carroll Foster 27, Holland, Mich.; $17 and costs for speeding 77 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

William Tackett, 25, Portsmouth; $25 and costs for speeding 77 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Don Galton, 21, Findlay; $30 and costs for speeding 83 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Charles Bryant, 41, Galloway, $30 and costs for speeding 81 miles per hour in a 60mile zone.

David Sidney, 38, Columbus; $25 and costs for speeding 75 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Billy Kersey, 21, Poca, W. Va.; $25 and costs for speeding 75 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

John Mathews, 23, Marietta; $25 and costs for speeding 77 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Ralph Nagel, 54, Portsmouth, $30 and costs for speeding 80 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Basil White, Charleston, W. Va.; $25 and costs for speeding 80 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Carlos Sheppard, 21, Dayton; $19 bond forfeiture for speeding 70 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Hassel Deel, 21, Dearborn, Mich.; $40 bond forfeituure for speeding 80 miles pr hour in a 60 mile zone.

Jerry Nichols, 19, River Rouge Mich.; $40 bond forfeiture for speeding 83 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Wayne Wilkins, 20, Cable; $33 bond forfeiture for speeding 84 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Vonley Simmering, 39, Oak Hill; $19 bond forfeiture for speeding 70 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Dennis Pickens, 23, 127 Park St.; was fined $15 and costs for failure to heed a stop sign.

Charles Cullums, 59, 217 E. High St.; $15 and costs for failure to maintain an assured clear distance ahead.

Charles Hutchinson, 24, Lockbourne; $50 and costs for reckless operation.

Lee Clark Smith, Williamsport; $100 and costs for permitting an unlicensed minor to operate a motor vehicle.

Record Film Plan Studied By Board

A microfilming program for certain Courthouse records was studied today by Pickaway County's Board of Commissioners.

The program is being considered for records maintained in the County Recorder's office, Clerk of Courts and Juvenile - Probate Court. Offering information on such a plan was Phillip R. Durkin, representing the Recordak Co., a division of Eastman Kodak.

Durkin submitted prices on equipment necessary to initiate the program. Most of the gear could be acquired on either a purchase or rental basis.

Essential items would include a camera and a micro file machine.

LLOYD MELVIN, commission chairman, said the three department heads concerned would be contacted prior to making a decision on the filming program.

Other morning business centered on providing insurance for radio equipment housed at the Courthouse and the County Jail.

as just another slashing case until he saw something under the coat of blood.

"I moistened my finger tips and rubbed," Dr. Smith said. "I saw a b. I rubbed some more and saw b-o-r-n."

It was the first word of a tattoo reading "born to raise hell."

Dr. Smith recalled the newspaper article and quickly washed the blood off the arm.

The tattoo was one of the identifying marks flashed across the continent 15 hours previously.

"What's your name?" Dr. Smith asked the man.

"Richard, Richard Speck," he answered weakly.

"This is the fellow police are looking for," Dr. Smith told a nurse. "Get hold of the police right now."

At one point, Dr. Smith said, Speck looked up and asked: "Will you get the $10,000?"

"I just walked away," the young surgeon said.

The reference was to the $10,000 reward offered by the South Chicago Community Hospital, where the student nurses trained.

When Speck was coming out of the anesthesia, the doctor quoted him as saying: "I'm scared. I'm scared."

As details of the police investigation were revealed Sunday it showed that Speck might be tied to the mass murder partly by his desire to reach New Orleans.

The only survivor of the massacre, Corazon Amurao, 23, a Filipino exchange nurse, told police the killer had said to the nurses he would not harm them that he only wanted to get money so he could reach New Orleans.

Then, Miss Amurao said, the man coolly and methodically took her eight friends into other rooms one at a time and strangled or slashed them to death.

Miss Amurao escaped the slaughter by rolling under a bed while the man was killing a nurse in another room.

Deaths

MR. HARRY A. KERN

Funeral services were held 2 p. m. today for Mr. Harry A. Kern, 77, Route 1, Williamsport, who died Friday.

Burial was in Springlawn Cemetery, Williamsport, under direction of the Snyder Funeral Home of Mt. Sterling.

Mr. Kern is survived by four sons, Howard, George and Robert, all of Route 1, Williamsport, and Orville of Florida; three daughters, Mrs. Medreth Eddard of Ashville, Mrs. Paline Wertz of Texas and Mrs. Mary Bracey of California: 22 grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

Court Hears $1.70 Case

Common Pleas Judge William Ammer disposed of a case Saturday involving two men who were bound to the grand jury for failing to pay a $1.70 tab at a local bar.

The men, David Ellyson of Columbus and Maurice Graves of Chillicothe, were charged in Circleville Municipal Court with defrauding an inn keeper. They allegedly refused to pay $1.70 for drinks consumed in the bar at Prairie Lanes.

The duo appeared before the court on bills of information and charges were reduced to larceny by trick by order of the court. The charge, after litigation, turned out to be a misdeameanor due to the amount involved.

Judge Ammer sentenced the men to 30 days in jail and fined each $50 and costs. Credit was given the men for 17 days spent in jail, and the remainder of the sentence plus the fines were suspended.

However, the court ordered that they pay the $1.70 to Prairie Lanes "stay out of places selling intoxicants" and pay the court costs.

Fish Gear Stolen

Turney Leist, Route 3, told the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department several items of fishing equipment had been taken from a building at his home.

The thefts apparently occurred since July 11, Leist said

Diltz, 17, pf 310 Crites Road and Bobby Walisa, S. Pickaway St.

Diltz was the driver of the car. No citation was issued by the sheriff's department.

Pearson Article Is Labeled False, Distorted by Harsha

William H. Harsha, Ohio 6th District congressman, today labeled an article by columnist Drew Pearson as false, misleading and distorted.

Pearson's article contends Harsha did not list in the Congressional Directory that he is a member of the law firm of Kimble, Schapiro, Stevens, Harsha & Harsha in Portsmouth, and that the firm has prospered by its representation of big companies having legislation before Congress. The columnist's remarks were pressed further by Ottie W. Reno of Pike County, Democratic candidate for the 6th District congressional seat.

The article dwells on legislation regarding transportation and oil imports. Companies mentioned as being represented by Harsha's law firm were Greyhound Lines and Phillips Petroleum and Ashland Refining.

In responding to the article, the Republican congressman said, "My law firm has never represented any firm in respect to legislation before the Congress. Furthermore, I have an agreement with the firm that should they represent any client in a matter that has any connection, either directly or indirecty, with the federal government, I am not to share in the fees."

The incumbent solon, referring to Reno's contentions, said: "He has been deliberately misrepresenting my voting records and distorting and falsifying the results of my activities in Congress in an effort to win votes.

"The columnist was correct when he stated I did not list my firm's name in the Congressional Directory. I omitted the firm name deliberately," Harsha said, "so that the Washington lobbyists and pressure groups wouldn't be engaging the firm. Placing the firm's name in the directory," he continued, "would only serve as an invitation to others to attempt to influence me by employing my law firm and this is what I was trying to avoid."

"It isn't necessary to list the firm name for the benefit of the citizns of the 6th District," he stated. "I have been associated with the firm since 1947 and practiced law in practically every county in the district under the firm name and the majority of the citizens in the district are aware I'm associated with the firm."

Harsha stated that contrary to the allegation, his law firm does not represent any of the companies mentioned by the columnist, and the opponent, on a retainer basis, but serves only as legal work develops.

talk with their daughters for most of the week. However, following pageant presentations on Thursday and Friday nights, mothers and fathers were allowed brief chats with the contestants.

Mistress of ceremonies for the three - evening pageant finals was Miss Maria Fletcher who reigned as Miss America in 1962.

FOR HER evening gown presentation, Miss Trimmer chose a subdued yellow. This also was the color selection for her bathing suit appearance.

Linda, one of the youngest contestants, felt no disappointment at all when the event was over. Lacking somewhat in self-confidence, or maybe its modesty, she had made her own selections for the finalists which were pretty close to the judges' choices.

Summing up the weeklong pageant, Linda said she received an education money could not buy and had more fun than "ever before in my life."

She represented the six-county area well as Miss South Central Ohio.

Gemini Launch Booked Today

Two repeat dockings are slated the next day — one by each astronaut.

Docking has been scheduled on three Gemini flights, but has been achieved only once. The Gemini 8 astronauts, Neil Armstrong and Air Force Maj. David R. Scott, joined with their Agena in March, but the experience was short-lived. A spacecraft jet thruster failed and spun the vehicle wildly out of control, forcing an emergency separation and landing.

After the first docking, Young and Collins, both 35, plan another space first — igniting the powerful 16,000-pound-thrust Agena 10 engine while linked with it to send both vehicles soaring together into an elliptical orbit ranging from 185 to 468 miles.

The altitude record is 307.5 miles, held by the Soviet Union's Voskhod 2 cosmonauts Pavel Belyayev and Alexei Leonov. The U.S. record is 216 miles by the Gemini 5 astronauts, Air Force Col. L. Gordon Cooper Jr and Navy Cmdr. Charles Conrad Jr.

"We're not trying to go to a certain altitude to set a record," Collins emphasized. "That's not our purpose. It is supposed to go after the 8 Agena."

Agena 8 is orbiting the earth at between 244 and 252 miles. In their different orbits, and with Young and Collins shifting their path from time to time, the two vehicles gradually will come together about 48 hours into the mission. They will disconnect from the Agena 10 and leave it in space after using it to achieve the high orbit.

At the higher altitude, experts figure the astronauts will be exposed to 10 times more radiation than any other American astronaut — but still only 1-20th the amount considered dangerous.

Collins' stand-up extra-vehicular activity —EVA—is to start about 23 hours into the flight and is to last 55 minutes while he conducts two experiments. One is to obtain ultraviolet photographs of four star fields. The other is to take picturs of four color patches in a test at determining the proper processing that must be made to obtain true photographic colors of the moon and other space objects.

After a night's sleep, they'll begin pursuing the Agena 8 in earnest.

"It will be difficult," said Collins, "because the 8 Agena is a dead bird with no battery life, guiding lights or radar transponder."

Young said the rendezvous with this passive target will set guidelines for future missions, such as space rescue, where a space ship might have to go after a disabled manned or unmanned satellite.

Once the astronauts have caught Agena 8, Collins is to emerge on a 50-foot tether and propel himself to the satellite, maneuvering with a gas-powered hand-held space gun.

He'll remove a micrometeorite detection package from the side of the Agena and replace it with another for a future astronaut to retrieve.

Following that, he'll run some exercises with the tether and the space gun and Young will drive up to him to simulate the recovery of a disabled astronaut.

After 55 minutes outside, Collins is to return to the cabin. An hour later he plans to open the hatch a third time for a few minutes to discard the tether and other unneeded items.

After a night's sleep and a morning filled with experiments, Gemini 10 is to return to earth about 4:30 p.m. EDT Thursday, landing in the western Atlantic about 345 miles east of Cape Kennedy.

Young and Collins are the 21st and 22nd Americans ticketed to fly into space. They also are the eighth two-man Gemini crew set to go aloft in 16 months — a period during which the Russians have made no manned launchings.

The United States now holds nearly evry man-in-space record. However, cautious American officials say they cannot evaluate who is ahead in the moon race until the Soviet Union has another cosmonaut mission — which should tip their hand as to their capabilities and future plans.

Two more Gemini flights are scheduled — in September and October. After that, the first of the three-man Apollo moon ships is to be fired into earth orbit. The Apollo program is aimed at a manned lunar landing in 1968 or 1969.

Manslaughter Charges Filed In Ross Fatality

CHILLICOTHE — Cpl. Lloyd R. Turpin of the State Highway Patrol has filed manslaughter charges against Leonard Lee Davis, 23, Londonderry.

Davis' auto was involved in a fatal crash on Route 159 north of the Route 23 intersection May 23 in which Donald E Disbennett, 29, Laurelville was killed.

Three passengers in the auto driven by Disbennett were injured.

Davis is presently serving a 10-day sentence in the Cincinnati Workhouse after being found guilty of speeding—the second such charge against him in one year.

Davis also was handed a $100 fine on the speeding charge and in addition was fined $50 and costs for reckless operation and had his driver's license suspended for one year.

The hearings on the traffic charges were held in Chillicothe Municipal Court.

Inspection Set At Grange Meet

The annual inspection of the Saltcreek Valley Grange No. 2314 will be held Tuesday beginning at 8 p. m.

County Grange Deputy and Mrs. John Dowler will be present to inspect work.

The second degree will be presented in full form by the degree team under the direction of Wayne Luckhart.

Paul Dunkle, worthy lecturer, has announced that the program for the evening will be "Thanks to Our Forefathers," a tribute to all fathers and mothers. The program will consist of readings, games and music concerning fathers and mothers.

All members are urged to attend the important meeting.

The World Today

By WILLIAM T. PEACOCK
For James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—Almost anywhere you look at the present political scene the tousle-haired head of Robert F. Kennedy seems to be a part of the picture.

Glancing around:

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon says he is optimistic about Republican prospects in the fall elections because the Democrats are divided.

He names as one area of division what he calls the rivalry between Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Kennedy.

In New York, hopefuls for the Democratic nomination for governor are wondering what Kennedy, the state's junior senator, may do in relation to the nomination.

In South Carolina, the Republican committeeman, figuring there is anti-Kennedy sentiment among his state's voters, says he thinks his party's chances of beating Ernest F. Hollings, the Democratic nominee for the Senate, are enhanced by the friendship between Hollings and Kennedy.

In Florida, there has been more talk about Kennedy than any other out-of-state political figure. Gov. Haydon Burns, who was beaten in the primary, charged that Kennedy money was aiding his opponent, Robert King High.

Kennedy's name also has come into other primaries, some past and some still ahead, such as in Tennessee and Wisconsin where Kennedy friends are candidate for governor.

There is a tendency for speculation about Kennedy's intentions to feed upon itself and grow accordingly, but fundamentally it is grounded in the expectation among many politicians that Kennedy has presidential ambitions in 1972 if not in 1968.

Few think there is any possibility of Kennedy's challenging President Johnson in 1968. Nixon is one of those who do not rule out that possibility.

Kennedy has said he will support Johnson for re-election, that there is nothing to the speculation he is building a national political machine, or to the reports of his financing some primary candidates.

There is no reason to disbelieve anything in that Kennedy statement.

Yet in the pragmatics of politics, a national political base necessarily takes form if Kennedy friends win key spots around the nation.

And talk of "Kennedy money" is not negated by Kennedy's statement he is not financing any candidate. It is "Kennedy money" in the politician's view if a Kennedy friend contributes it.

Whatever his intentions and ambitions, Kennedy is already a powerful figure on the American political scene.

How powerful he may be by the year's end is wrapepd up in the answers yet to come of a couple of other questions.

Has he indeed—as many presume—come to a position where he can handpick the Democratic nominee for governor of New York, to be chosen in a September convention?

And if so, can he sway the voters to elect his candidate over Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller?

Steel Output Records Seen

Current Slump Said Temporary

CLEVELAND (AP)—Despite a summer production slump, Steel Magazine today predicted, "It is a good bet that steel records will be set this year."

The metalworking weekly attributed the current lull to summer vacations, shutdowns at auto plants for model changeovers and strikes at some shops that use steel.

Steel mentioned the recent one-week strike at the Ford Motor Co.'s plants in suburban Brook Park as contributing to the slump.

July deliveries of finished steel are expected to be about eight per cent below those in June, Steel said, but steelmen say orders from auto makers for August deliveries are good.

Steelmen expect an upturn after July, but marketmen say it will be October before shipments reach the June levels, the magazine said.

Production of steel for castings and ingots in the week ended July 16 was 2,490,000 net tons, off about 286,000 net tons from the year's high of 2,776,000 net tons in the week ended May 14. Steelmakers expect production to remain steady the rest of this month the magazine said.

Seel production for this year through July 9 is estimated at 71,166,000 net tons, down 1,696,000 net tons or 3.7 per cent from the same period last year.

The magazine noted a continuing high demand from appliance makers, shipping container manufacturers, machinery builders, construction companies and defense contractors.

"Defense needs are rising steadily," Steel said, adding, "There's a strong belief that production of major appliances will reach a record high this year."

The altitude record is 307.5 miles, held by the Soviet Union's Voskhod 2 cosmonauts Pavel Belyayev and Alexei Leonov. The U.S. record is 216 miles by the Gemini 5 astronauts, Air Force Col. L. Gordon Cooper Jr and Navy Cmdr. Charles Conrad Jr.

"We're not trying to go to a certain altitude to set a record," Collins emphasized. "That's not our purpose. It is supposed to go after the 8 Agena."

Agena 8 is orbiting the earth at between 244 and 252 miles. In their different orbits, and with Young and Collins shifting their path from time to time, the two vehicles gradually will come together about 48 hours into the mission. They will disconnect from the Agena 10 and leave it in space after using it to achieve the high orbit.

At the higher altitude, experts figure the astronauts will be exposed to 10 times more radiation than any other American astronaut — but still only 1-20th the amount considered dangerous.

Collins' stand-up extra-vehicular activity —EVA—is to start about 23 hours into the flight and is to last 55 minutes while he conducts two experiments. One is to obtain ultraviolet photographs of four star fields. The other is to take picturs of four color patches in a test at determining the proper processing that must be made to obtain true photographic colors of the moon and other space objects.

After a night's sleep, they'll begin pursuing the Agena 8 in earnest.

"It will be difficult," said Collins, "because the 8 Agena is a dead bird with no battery life, guiding lights or radar transponder."

Young said the rendezvous with this passive target will set guidelines for future missions, such as space rescue, where a space ship might have to go after a disabled manned or unmanned satellite.

Once the astronauts have caught Agena 8, Collins is to emerge on a 50-foot tether and propel himself to the satellite, maneuvering with a gas-powered hand-held space gun.

He'll remove a micrometeorite detection package from the side of the Agena and replace it with another for a future astronaut to retrieve.

Following that, he'll run some exercises with the tether and the space gun and Young will drive up to him to simulate the recovery of a disabled astronaut.

After 55 minutes outside, Collins is to return to the cabin. An hour later he plans to open the hatch a third time for a few minutes to discard the tether and other unneeded items.

After a night's sleep and a morning filled with experiments, Gemini 10 is to return to earth about 4:30 p.m. EDT Thursday, landing in the western Atlantic about 345 miles east of Cape Kennedy.

Young and Collins are the 21st and 22nd Americans ticketed to fly into space. They also are the eighth two-man Gemini crew set to go aloft in 16 months — a period during which the Russians have made no manned launchings.

The United States now holds nearly evry man-in-space record. However, cautious American officials say they cannot evaluate who is ahead in the moon race until the Soviet Union has another cosmonaut mission — which should tip their hand as to their capabilities and future plans.

Two more Gemini flights are scheduled — in September and October. After that, the first of the three-man Apollo moon ships is to be fired into earth orbit. The Apollo program is aimed at a manned lunar landing in 1968 or 1969.

Manslaughter Charges Filed In Ross Fatality

CHILLICOTHE — Cpl. Lloyd R. Turpin of the State Highway Patrol has filed manslaughter charges against Leonard Lee Davis, 23, Londonderry.

Davis' auto was involved in a fatal crash on Route 159 north of the Route 23 intersection May 23 in which Donald E Disbennett, 29, Laurelville was killed.

Three passengers in the auto driven by Disbennett were injured.

Davis is presently serving a 10-day sentence in the Cincinnati Workhouse after being found guilty of speeding—the second such charge against him in one year.

Davis also was handed a $100 fine on the speeding charge and in addition was fined $50 and costs for reckless operation and had his driver's license suspended for one year.

The hearings on the traffic charges were held in Chillicothe Municipal Court.

Inspection Set At Grange Meet

The annual inspection of the Saltcreek Valley Grange No. 2314 will be held Tuesday beginning at 8 p. m.

County Grange Deputy and Mrs. John Dowler will be present to inspect work.

The second degree will be presented in full form by the degree team under the direction of Wayne Luckhart.

Paul Dunkle, worthy lecturer, has announced that the program for the evening will be "Thanks to Our Forefathers," a tribute to all fathers and mothers. The program will consist of readings, games and music concerning fathers and mothers.

All members are urged to attend the important meeting.

The World Today

By WILLIAM T. PEACOCK
For James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—Almost anywhere you look at the present political scene the tousle-haired head of Robert F. Kennedy seems to be a part of the picture.

Glancing around:

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon says he is optimistic about Republican prospects in the fall elections because the Democrats are divided.

He names as one area of division what he calls the rivalry between Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Kennedy.

In New York, hopefuls for the Democratic nomination for governor are wondering what Kennedy, the state's junior senator, may do in relation to the nomination.

In South Carolina, the Republican committeeman, figuring there is anti-Kennedy sentiment among his state's voters, says he thinks his party's chances of beating Ernest F. Hollings, the Democratic nominee for the Senate, are enhanced by the friendship between Hollings and Kennedy.

In Florida, there has been more talk about Kennedy than any other out-of-state political figure. Gov. Haydon Burns, who was beaten in the primary, charged that Kennedy money was aiding his opponent, Robert King High.

Kennedy's name also has come into other primaries, some past and some still ahead, such as in Tennessee and Wisconsin where Kennedy friends are candidate for governor.

There is a tendency for speculation about Kennedy's intentions to feed upon itself and grow accordingly, but fundamentally it is grounded in the expectation among many politicians that Kennedy has presidential ambitions in 1972 if not in 1968.

Few think there is any possibility of Kennedy's challenging President Johnson in 1968. Nixon is one of those who do not rule out that possibility.

Kennedy has said he will support Johnson for re-election, that there is nothing to the speculation he is building a national political machine, or to the reports of his financing some primary candidates.

There is no reason to disbelieve anything in that Kennedy statement.

Yet in the pragmatics of politics, a national political base necessarily takes form if Kennedy friends win key spots around the nation.

And talk of "Kennedy money" is not negated by Kennedy's statement he is not financing any candidate. It is "Kennedy money" in the politician's view if a Kennedy friend contributes it.

Whatever his intentions and ambitions, Kennedy is already a powerful figure on the American political scene.

How powerful he may be by the year's end is wrapepd up in the answers yet to come of a couple of other questions.

Has he indeed—as many presume—come to a position where he can handpick the Democratic nominee for governor of New York, to be chosen in a September convention?

And if so, can he sway the voters to elect his candidate over Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller?

Steel Output Records Seen

Current Slump Said Temporary

CLEVELAND (AP)—Despite a summer production slump, Steel Magazine today predicted, "It is a good bet that steel records will be set this year."

The metalworking weekly attributed the current lull to summer vacations, shutdowns at auto plants for model changeovers and strikes at some shops that use steel.

Steel mentioned the recent one-week strike at the Ford Motor Co.'s plants in suburban Brook Park as contributing to the slump.

July deliveries of finished steel are expected to be about eight per cent below those in June, Steel said, but steelmen say orders from auto makers for August deliveries are good.

Steelmen expect an upturn after July, but marketmen say it will be October before shipments reach the June levels, the magazine said.

Production of steel for castings and ingots in the week ended July 16 was 2,490,000 net tons, off about 286,000 net tons from the year's high of 2,776,000 net tons in the week ended May 14. Steelmakers expect production to remain steady the rest of this month the magazine said.

Seel production for this year through July 9 is estimated at 71,166,000 net tons, down 1,696,000 net tons or 3.7 per cent from the same period last year.

The magazine noted a continuing high demand from appliance makers, shipping container manufacturers, machinery builders, construction companies and defense contractors.

"Defense needs are rising steadily," Steel said, adding, "There's a strong belief that production of major appliances will reach a record high this year."

Issues Won't Stay Put

By John Chamberlain

President Johnson is no longer pulling those public opinion polls out of his pocket to show how well he is doing with the people. Instead, he is taking action to affect the polls of October, which are the ones that are going to sway the Congressional elections in November.

The President's calculated risks are momentarily in his favor. In Congressional district after district in mid-June private polls indicated much voter dissatisfaction with the slow pace of the Vietnamese war. For example, in the Waterbury, Connecticut, area of Representative John S. Monagan, a Democrat, two out of three respondents were for bombing the oil depots in North Vietnam and four out of five were for blockading Haiphong. Polls taken in regions as far apart as California, Virginia, Arkansas, and Alaska indicated that Connecticut's preferences were also the preferences of the west and the south. But, with the recent intensive bombing of the North Vietnamese oil tanks, every last one of the polls that indicated frustration with the Administrations' handling of the war is, at least for the short run, obsolete.

Fearing this development, Senator Javits of New York warned Republicans some time ago not to count on the war issue next autumn. Inflation, so Javits, Dirksen and other old hands were saying, was a better bet. But now the possibility loom that the inflation issue will be snatched from the eager hands of Republican aspirants.

The economy, indeed, is in a strange period in which it is impossible to determine which way the currents are flowing. There are tidal rips and strong back eddies, and it is easy to mistake one for the other. The tax take for fiscal 1966 has been so good that, as these lines are being written, it looks as though the predicted estimate of a $6.5 billion federal deficit would be something less than $3 billion. The President is unwilling to cut back on Great Society projects for 1967, but even as he spends more on people who vote he is strenly demanding an elimination of waste in the Washington bureaucracies, whose employees won't be voting in Connecticut or California.

Smaller federal deficits, of course, mean a lessening of inflationary pressures. They also mean that no tax increases will be needed before election day, which take a lot of politicos off the hook.

The news from Detroit, telling of a heavy hang - over of unsold 1966 automobiles, is more deflationary than inflationary. And the University of Michigan consumer research center indicates that car sales for 1967 may fall considerably short of the nine million that Detroit has been coming to think of as its rightful annual due. The tight mortgage money means that fewer homes will be built in the coming year, which means that upward pressure on a lot of prices, from furniture to washing machines, will diminish.

With "escalation" an accompished fact in Southeast Asia, and with a paradoxical cooling off of the economy at home, the Republicans may have to search for new issues. What will they be? Vietnam must remain an enigma until the results of the stepped-up bombing raids are known. If the Vietcong fails to win ground victories during the monsoon, LBJ will have a card in his hand. But if there is no concurrent move in Hanoi toward negotiation, and the hawks begin calling for still stronger methods to end the war, the card may not be worth what it should be. The Republicans, if they insist on making the war a campaign issue, are going to have to play it by ear. They could be caught out as Senator Capehart and Senator Keating were caught out on the Cuban missile issue, for a President who is also our Commander-in-Chief can always act in way to trump any armchair strategist's ace.

As for the state of the economy in November, we could have a painful fall - off in consumer purchases even without increasing unemployment, simply through a diminution in take - home pay. Thousands of workers are now dependent for their luxuries and their installment credit payments on their overtime income. Once these workers are cut back to a normal forty - hour week, the drop in purchasing power would ripple through the economy. It would be a switch if Republicans were to win office in November on the issue of recession, not inflation.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

— by LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D. —

What is meant by farmer's lung disease?

Farmer's lung disease refers to a condition seen occasionally in people who work with cattle, hay and grain

When moldy grains and dusts are inhaled the spores of the fungus enter the bronchial tubes and infect the lungs.

The symptoms of cough, shaking chills, fever and general weakness, resemble those of pneumonia. Fortunately, the condition responds well to treatment and rarely is fatal.

Protective masks are being developed to prevent the repeated inhalation of the fungi responsible for farmer's lung.

Can a blood tansfusion cause jaundice and hepatitis?

Hepatitis as a result of a blood transfusion does occasionally occur. Fortunately it is rare.

The virus that is responsible may be in the blood of the donor without giving him any symptoms. When his blood is used for a transfusion the virus may incubate in the recipient for many weeks before jaundice and hepatitis appear.

Donors are screened very carefully in order to insure their good health before their blood is used. New techniques are being tried to sterilize blood with ultraviolent light to reduce to a minimum such reactions to transfusions.

A yearly "Pap" smear test is invaluable for the early detection and cure of cancer of the cervix of the womb.

The Business World

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The long heat wave and the rush to buy coolers has built a fire under the gas industry's drive to get a sizable share of the air conditioning business.

Gas and electricity are increasingly in competition in two fields. The electric utilities have been chipping away some of gas and oil's market for heating homes and office buildings. More gas companies are now striving to break electricity's once all but iron tight monopoly on the cooling business.

In their forays into the other's territory both have been plagued greatly by the same thing: high costs. The electric utilities are slowly bringing down the costs of electric heating. The gas industry is pushing a long-term research and development campaign to boost the efficiency and lower the costs of cooling by gas. The goal envisions gas-operated window coolers as well as central air conditioning units in which gas is now used.

About 90,000 single family homes installed central gas air conditioners in 1965, bringing the total to around three million.

But this is a small share of the market. So 72 gas utilities are pushing development of 2-to 10-ton range equipment to be competitively priced with electrically powered air conditioners. One maker of gas units expects a lower priced model late in 1967.

The industry as a whole talks of full-scale production in 1968 of radically new year-round air conditioning systems. They would range from window types to central home heating and cooling units. They would be designed around a gas-fired compressor, such as first perfected for use in sophisticated space vehicles.

The big hope of cracking the market seems to lie in the development field. Three years ago the 72 gas companies started a project called Utilities for Progress in Gas Airconditioning Research and Development.

The American Gas Association also is sponsoring research and development with the Institute of Gas Technology a part of the Illinois Institute of Technology, Chicago. Its four-part project includes a computer model for studying behavior of absorption systems, a new refrigerant for absorption cooling, a compressor actuated by a gas flame, and a new salt combination for air drying by the use of solids.

With "escalation" an accomplished fact in Southeast Asia, and with a paradoxical cooling off of the economy at home, the Republicans may have to search for new issues. What will they be? Vietnam must remain an enigma until the results of the stepped-up bombing raids are known. If the Vietcong fails to win ground victories during the monsoon, LBJ will have a card in his hand. But if there is no concurrent move in Hanoi toward negotiation, and the hawks begin calling for still stronger methods to end the war, the card may not be worth what it should be. The Republicans, if they insist on making the war a campaign issue, are going to have to play it by ear. They could be caught out as Senator Capehart and Senator Keating were caught out on the Cuban missile issue, for a President who is also our Commander-in-Chief can always act in way to trump any armchair strategist's ace.

As for the state of the economy in November, we could have a painful fall - off in consumer purchases even without increasing unemployment, simply through a diminution in take - home pay. Thousands of workers are now dependent for their luxuries and their installment credit payments on their overtime income. Once these workers are cut back to a normal forty - hour week, the drop in purchasing power would ripple through the economy. It would be a switch if Republicans were to win office in November on the issue of recession, not inflation.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

— by LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D. —

What is meant by farmer's lung disease?

Farmer's lung disease refers to a condition seen occasionally in people who work with cattle, hay and grain

When moldy grains and dusts are inhaled the spores of the fungus enter the bronchial tubes and infect the lungs.

The symptoms of cough, shaking chills, fever and general weakness, resemble those of pneumonia. Fortunately, the condition responds well to treatment and rarely is fatal.

Protective masks are being developed to prevent the repeated inhalation of the fungi responsible for farmer's lung.

Can a blood tansfusion cause jaundice and hepatitis?

Hepatitis as a result of a blood transfusion does occasionally occur. Fortunately it is rare.

The virus that is responsible may be in the blood of the donor without giving him any symptoms. When his blood is used for a transfusion the virus may incubate in the recipient for many weeks before jaundice and hepatitis appear.

Donors are screened very carefully in order to insure their good health before their blood is used. New techniques are being tried to sterilize blood with ultraviolent light to reduce to a minimum such reactions to transfusions.

A yearly "Pap" smear test is invaluable for the early detection and cure of cancer of the cervix of the womb.

The Business World

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The long heat wave and the rush to buy coolers has built a fire under the gas industry's drive to get a sizable share of the air conditioning business.

Gas and electricity are increasingly in competition in two fields. The electric utilities have been chipping away some of gas and oil's market for heating homes and office buildings. More gas companies are now striving to break electricity's once all but iron tight monopoly on the cooling business.

In their forays into the other's territory both have been plagued greatly by the same thing: high costs. The electric utilities are slowly bringing down the costs of electric heating. The gas industry is pushing a long-term research and development campaign to boost the efficiency and lower the costs of cooling by gas. The goal envisions gas-operated window coolers as well as central air conditioning units in which gas is now used.

About 90,000 single family homes installed central gas air conditioners in 1965, bringing the total to around three million.

But this is a small share of the market. So 72 gas utilities are pushing development of 2-to 10-ton range equipment to be competitively priced with electrically powered air conditioners. One maker of gas units expects a lower priced model late in 1967.

The industry as a whole talks of full-scale production in 1968 of radically new year-round air conditioning systems. They would range from window types to central home heating and cooling units. They would be designed around a gas-fired compressor, such as first perfected for use in sophisticated space vehicles.

The big hope of cracking the market seems to lie in the development field. Three years ago the 72 gas companies started a project called Utilities for Progress in Gas Airconditioning Research and Development.

The American Gas Association also is sponsoring research and development with the Institute of Gas Technology a part of the Illinois Institute of Technology, Chicago. Its four-part project includes a computer model for studying behavior of absorption systems, a new refrigerant for absorption cooling, a compressor actuated by a gas flame, and a new salt combination for air drying by the use of solids.

CCA Reports New Record Set on Six-Month Profits

Container Corporation of America today reported that net earnings for both the second quarter and first six months of 1966 were the highest in its history. The packaging company has a paperboard mill in Circleville.

Leo H. Schoenhofen, president and chief executive officer, said earnings during the three months ending June 30, totalled $9,548,000, or 85 cents per common share. This is an increase of 29 per cent over last year's second quarter earnings of $7,384,000 or 66 cents per share.

Earnings for the first six months totalled $17,804,000 or $1.59 per share, 23 per cent higher than the record achieved in the same period last year.

Sales during the second quarter of 1966 totalled $118,560,000, 18 per cent ahead of the same period last year. Sales in the first half posted a gain of 13 per cent, reaching a record $224,560,000, compared with $198,700,000 in the first six months of 1965.

"Sales and production activity at our packaging plants and paperboard mills continue at a very high level," Schoenhofen reported, "and the outlook for the balance of this year continues to be excellent.

"We have just increased our regular quarterly dividend from 30 cents to 32½ cents per share. Our annual dividend has been increased each year for the past four years," Schoenhofen added. Dividends to holders of common stock have increased from 82½ cents in 1962 to an indicated dividend of $1.25 in 1966.

"A major factor contributing to the current sales and earnings records has been the increased production efficiency resulting from recent captial investments," Schoenhofen stated, "and we are now adding new and expanded facilities in almost every country in which we are operating." Container is building a new shipping container plant in Colombia, and is modernizing and expanding shipping container plants in West Germany and The Netherlands.

The company is expanding its paperboard mill in Circleville and the one in Caracas, Venezuela. A new shipping container plant is under construction in Shelby, N. C. Expansion programs are being completed at shipping container plants in Houston, Nashville and St. Louis.

TODAY In History

In 1776, New Jersey declared its independence from Great Britain.

In 1792, American naval hero, John Paul Jones, died in poverty in Paris.

In 1920, the French conferred the Legion of Honor upon the entire town of Chateau-Thierry for action during World War I.

In 1942, Gen. Lewis Brereton was named chief of U. S. Air Forces in the Middle East.

In 1946, Vito Mussolini, the nephew of the Italian dictator, was pardoned in Rome under the terms of a general political amnesty.

Ten years ago — The U.S. Army imposed a curfew on 150,000 American soldiers stationed in West Germany to curb sometimes violent encounters between off-duty U.S. troops and German civilians.

World Hunger Crisis May Be Here Now

ROME (AP) — That world hunger crisis, posing the gravest threat mankind has known, may already be with us. This is the view of some international experts, while others see no sure way of avoiding disaster within the next 30 years as the world's population doubles.

An advisory commission of the U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization warned this month: "This world is on the threshold of the worst famine in its history."

FAO experts, who desperately seek a solution, have begun only recently to use the words hunger crisis and warn that it is near.

"Indeed," Prof. Gunnar Myrdal, Swedish economist, told a FAO land reform conference, "a future historian may place the beginning of the hunger crisis at a point already past."

Dr. B. R. Sen, director of general of FAO, says that unless there is a revolution soon in agriculture "famines and civil disorders will take a heavy toll of human life" in two-thirds of the inhabited world.

Dr. Sen finds that with half the world's population already hungry or undernourished, "the balance between hunger and food supplies is so precarious that one bad harvest or natural calamity brings on famine."

He cities the case of India. But even such a large producing country as the Soviet Union became an importer of millions of tons of wheat because of the single bad crop year of 1963. The Soviet Union now bids against Red China on the world grain market to try to rebuild lost reserves.

What has brought on the crisis?

The increase in population has begun to outstrip the increase in food production.

Until a few years ago world food production increased roughly two per cent per year to keep barely abreast of a two per cent population gain.

In the past four years production gain has averaged little more than one per cent and population increase is advancing toward three per cent a year.

Inexorable population statistics show where this is leading.

It took from the dawn of mankind until the year 1830 to build up the world's first billion population. It took 100 years, until 1930, for the second billion. It took 30 years, until 1960, for the third billion.

In the next 30 to 35 years, by the end of this century, population will double to six billion.

The immediate problem requires better distribution of available food and increased yields per acre and per man-hour.

But there is no long-range answer to rocketing population simply by trying to increase plantings. The world does not have that much usable land.

FAO figures that there are only 12.5 acres of living space available for each man, woman and child today. Of that only 1.1 acres is under cultivation, and an additional 2.65 acres could be cultivated. Of the rest, 1.25 acres have inadequate soil, 2.5 acres are too arid, 2.5 acres are too mountainous and 2.5 acres are too cold.

All the rest is sea, and science is not yet ready to promise sufficient additional food for the oceans.

Picnic Ends in Drowning

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—A Sunday school picnic at Dillon Dam reservoir northwest of here ended in death for Bruce L. Norris, 8 of Zanesville when he waded into deep water and drowned.

2 West Virginians Drown in Ohio River

REEDSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Two persons from Parkersburg, W. Va., drowned at Lock 20 on the Ohio River Sunday night — a girl, 17, and a man who tried to rescue her.

Donna Moore was wading with an unidentified boyfriend at the lock here, about 20 miles downriver from Parkersburg, when she slipped over a stepoff.

Donald Abbot, 37, then jumped in to help and was pulled under the water by the drowning Moore girl. He too perished.

The other man survived.

Chiropractor

The following are cases from the chiropractic file.

A bad cold and fever, followed by a constant headache in the back of the head, along with a deep ache and stabbing pains in his chest extending all the way through to his back, were the complaints of a 25 year old college student.

Low blood pressure, acid indigestion, increasing nervousness, frequent urination, low back and leg pains that were previously diagnosed as "Sciatic Rheumatism", caused a grandmother, age 72 to seek the help of a chiropractor.

Bordering on a nervous breakdown, a jittery, weeping, 22 year old mother of four children, suffering from constipation, sinus trouble, abdominal pains, low backaches, daily sick headaches, and female trouble, also came to a chiropractor for help.

Spinal analysis found nerve interferences in each case and x-rays disclosed spinal lesions responsible for the offending nerve disturbance causing their painful symptoms.

Corrective spinal adjustments were equally effective on the 25 year old college student and the 72 year old grandmother, as in the case of the very sick mother of so many children.

These different cases, of different ages, and different ailments are typical of a daily chiropractor's practice.

All the rest is sea, and science is not yet ready to promise sufficient additional food for the oceans.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, July 18, the 199t hday of 1966. There are 166 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1951, at the age of 37 Jersey Joe Walcott became the oldest fighter to win the world heavyweight championship when he knocked out Ezzard Charles.

On this date

In 1776, New Jersey declared its independence from Great Britain.

In 1792, American naval hero, John Paul Jones, died in poverty in Paris.

In 1920, the French conferred the Legion of Honor upon the entire town of Chateau-Thierry for action during World War I.

In 1942, Gen. Lewis Brereton was named chief of U. S. Air Forces in the Middle East.

In 1946, Vito Mussolini, the nephew of the Italian dictator, was pardoned in Rome under the terms of a general political amnesty.

Ten years ago — The U.S. Army imposed a curfew on 150,000 American soldiers stationed in West Germany to curb sometimes violent encounters between off-duty U.S. troops and German civilians.

Your Health Through Chiropractic

THE SICK, YOUNG AND OLD, RESPOND

DR. HERMAN H. SHUTTLEWORTH
Chiropractor

The following are cases from the chiropractic file.

A bad cold and fever, followed by a constant headache in the back of the head, along with a deep ache and stabbing pains in his chest extending all the way through to his back, were the complaints of a 25 year old college student.

Low blood pressure, acid indigestion, increasing nervousness, frequent urination, low back and leg pains that were previously diagnosed as "Sciatic Rheumatism", caused a grandmother, age 72 to seek the help of a chiropractor.

Bordering on a nervous breakdown, a jittery, weeping, 22 year old mother of four children, suffering from constipation, sinus trouble, abdominal pains, low backaches, daily sick headaches, and female trouble, also came to a chiropractor for help.

Spinal analysis found nerve interferences in each case and x-rays disclosed spinal lesions responsible for the offending nerve disturbance causing their painful symptoms.

Corrective spinal adjustments were equally effective on the 25 year old college student and the 72 year old grandmother, as in the case of the very sick mother of so many children.

These different cases, of different ages, and different ailments are typical of a daily chiropractor's practice.

Presented in the public interest for better health through chiropractic.

Miss Reynolds Becomes Bride of Mr. Hutchinson

MRS. ELMER D. HUTCHINSON

Miss Ruth Elaine Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Reynolds, Chillicothe, and Mr. Elmer D. Hutchinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hutchinson, Sr., Stoutsville, exchanged wedding vows 4:30 p m. July 9 in the Yellowbud EUB Church.

The Rev. T. E. Donaugh, pastor of the St. Marys Evangelical United Brethren Church in St Marys, O., performed the ceremony.

Pre - nuptial music was presented by soloist James Reynolds, brother of the bride. Mrs. Edwin Kunz, sister of the bride accompanied on the piano.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white silk organza fashioned with a high oval neckline and a bodice with elbow sleeves. Lace, crystals, and seed pearls. molded the natural waistline. Lace also encircled the bell skirt.

A plateau of flowers and crystals, held her double tiered floor length illusion veil. Her cascade bouquet was of white roses, lilies of the valley and Boston fern with white streamers.

Mrs. James Reynolds, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. Miss Carolyn Bennett was the bridesmaid.

Each wore floor length gowns of blue dotted swiss. The gown featured an oval neckline, elbow ruffled sleeves, and an empire waistline that was caught with a matching blue velvet ribbon. A sheath skirt fell from the waistline. Their headpieces were pearl combs, with blue butterfly veils.

The matron of honor carried a cascade bouquet of Talisman roses, lilies of the valley and Boston fern with yellow streamers. The bridesmaid carried a cascade bouquet of Talisman rosebuds and Boston fern.

Misses Melanie and Sharon Kunz, nieces of the bride, were junior bridesmaids and flower girl. Their floor length gowns styled like the attendants were made by the bride's cousin, Mrs. James Hoffman, 538 E. Franklin St.

The junior bridesmaid carried a cascade bouquet of Talisman rosebuds and Boston fern. On her head she wore a pearl comb, with a butterfly veil. The flower girl's headpiece was of lilies of the valley.

Mr. Lowell Smith, Columbus, served as the best man. Seating the guests were Marshall Hutchinson, brother of the groom and Edwin Kunz, brother-in-law of the bride. Each wore a blue carnation boutonniere in their white coats. The groom wore a white rose.

Master Jimmy Rasor, Grove City, cousin of the bride was the ring bearer. He wore a white coat with a yellow rosebud boutonniere.

The ceremony was concluded with "The Lord's Prayer" sung by the bride's father.

A reception was held in the Springbank Methodist Church social room immediately following the ceremony. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Russell Hutchinson Jr., Mrs. Hoffman, Mrs. Donaugh, Mrs. Robert Williams and Mrs. Dwight Williams. Miss Dora Kiser and Miss Linda Kline opened the gifts.

The new couple took a wedding trip to the east coast.

The new Mrs. Hutchinson is the granddaughter of Mrs. Hazel Mowery, 831 Pershing Dr., and a graduate of Kingston High School and Chillicothe Business School. She is a bookkeeper for her father at the Scioto Oil Company, Chillicothe.

Mr. Hutchinson is a graduate of Stoutsville High School and is stationed with the Navy in Rhode Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hutchinson Jr., Logan Elm Road, brother and sister - in - law of the bridegroom, were hosts at a rehearsal dinner in their home.

Mrs. Hosler Honored with Baby Shower

Mrs. Harry Hosler III was honored with a baby shower hosted by Mrs. Harry Hosler Sr., and Mrs. Manley Carothers.

A pink and blue bassinet decorated with pink rose buds and guarded by a stork held the shower gifts.

Games were played and prizes won by Mrs. Rusty Vaughn and Mrs. Willard Hosler. Door prizes went to Mrs. Harlan Higman, Miss Carol Kirkwood, Mrs. Sandra Gerhardt and Mrs. Hosler.

Guests present were Mrs. Sandra Gerhardt and Kim, Mrs. Rusty Vaughn and Paige, Mrs. Ethel Hosler, Mrs. M. C. Kirkwood and Carol and Cheryl, Mrs. Willard Hosler and Karen.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Charles Higman, of Williamsport, Mrs. Richard Speakman of Clarksburg, Mrs. Harlan Higman of Fremont, Peggy Sue Armentrout of Fremont, and Mrs. Charles Amig of Freeburg, Pa.

Gifts sent were from Mrs. Jack Armentrout and Johnny, Bobby and Steve Speakman, Mrs. Larry Higman and Beth, Mrs. Viva Tastings, Mrs. Inez Lingo, Mrs. Alta Jones, Mrs. Viola Jones, Mr. and Mrs Harry Hosler Jr., Mrs. Vivian Brooks, and Mrs. Delbert Bochard.

A dessert course was served on trays with mint filled baby booties as favors.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Jerk Can't Go On Forever

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for six weeks to a wonderful man. I am 57 and he is 69. I have heard that some people are allergic to other people, and I would hate to think that it is true in my case, but every time my husband comes near me I start to jerk all over. It is strange how the muscles of my arms and legs and all over my body start to twitch and jerk.

When I am not around him I do not jerk at all. We went together for nearly three years before we were married and I didn't jerk then. I am satisfied with him as a husband and we get along fine, but all this jerking is making a nervous wreck of me. Can you tell me what is causing this?

JERKING

DEAR JERKING: If you "jerk" only when you are near your husband, his presence could be related to your jerking. Discuss it with your doctor. You can't go on jerking indefinitely.

DEAR ABBY: What is a second wife supposed to do when her mother-in-law drags out pictures of the first wife, who is now deceased, and I am told was not liked by the family when she was living? I am the second wife in this case, and after three years of being in this family (or am I?) I am getting a little sick of it.

My husband doesn't enjoy it any more than I do, but he says, "She is my mother and I am not going to fight with her." What should I do?

SECOND WIFE

DEAR SECOND: Too bad you don't have a strong, protective husband, because that would be your only solution. However, you are not compelled to sit there and endure the agony. Either leave the room, or pull a paperback book out of your purse and ignore the goings-on about you. I'll admit, it's rather impolite, but it's an open and shut case of self-defense.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a mother who would send her child to a birthday party with only ONE present when she knows the party is for a pair of twins? The gift is something like a "game" or a box of candy with a card inside saying, "FOR THE TWINS."

I would like to see this answered in the paper. Thank you.

MOTHER OF TWINS

DEAR MOTHER: While it is not an earth-shaking social blunder, I suspect that each twin would prefer an individual gift.

DEAR ABBY: Please print this for "ROOTS", who couldn't bear to move from the place where she had grown up: A friend of mine announced at the age of 75 that she was moving from an eastern city to the west with her daughter.

All her friends said, "Why, Mrs. Jones, you can't leave a place where you have lived for 40 years. You'll never be happy. All your friends are here."

My friend replied, "Well, when I have lived THERE for 40 years I'll have a lot more friends."

She is now 95 years old and time has proved her right.

All-Star Team Wins 3 Games During Weekend

The Circleville Little League All - Stars had a busy weekend, splitting a double header with the Frisby Electric Cubs Saturday and sweeping a pair from the Teays Valley All - Stars on Sunday.

The Frisby Cubs won the first half of the twin bill, 1-0. Don Valentine and Dave Truex, working on the mound for the locals, walked two, fanned five and allowed five hits.

Pongonis went the distance for the Cubs, striking out three and scattering five hits without a walk. Back-to-back triples by Refice and Olson scored the run in the fourth inning.

Blankenship tripled for Circleville.

IN THE second tilt with the Cubs the locals won, 4-3. A three - run splurge in the fifth turned the trick.

Greg Hoskins homered for Circleville's only extra baser. It was one of three hits chalked by the locals.

Archibald tripled for the Cubs' longest blow. The losers had three other hits, all singles.

Rich Speakman, going the distance for Circleville, walked two and fanned 10.

Refice worked for the Cubs, allowing two walks and six strikeouts.

Circleville copped a pair from the Teays Valley All Stars on Sunday, both by scores of 13-0.

* * *

IN THE first tilt, Greg Hoskins hurled a no - hitter while walking two and fanning seven.

Wilson went the distance for the Teays Valley nine, allowing two bases on balls, whiffing five and scattering 12 hits.

Terry Morrison collected a pair of triples for Circleville. Rick Blankenship tripled and doubled. Other Circleville doubles were hit by Mike Hamrick, Greg Heiskell, and Rich Speakman.

The stars won the second game on 21 hits. Morrison tagged three doubles, Hamrick two and Blankenship one. The other 15 hits were singles.

Blankenship worked the distance for Circleville, walking one, fanning 12 and scattering three hits.

Larry Havens hurled for Teays Valley. He walked one and fanned four.

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) —For the first time since he came to the Cleveland Browns in 1962, Ernie Green will not be playing in the shadow of the great Jimmy Brown and Ernie says frankly he is looking forward to this season.

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Kansas teen-ager Jim Ryun handed the Iron Curtain countries an unexpected return blow to their slap at his nation when his flying feet returned the world record in the classic mile to the United States after a 29-year absence.

For if Poland hadn't followed the lead of Russia and pulled out of dual meets against the USA track and field forces in a political move against U.S. activities in Viet Nam, the 19-year-old Ryun wouldn't have run the mile Sunday.

He wouldn't have had the chance to blaze four laps in 3 minutes, 51.3 seconds, clipping a remarkable 2.3 off the record held by Frenchman Michael Jazy. Instead, he would have been running a 1,500-meter race, the metric mile, against the Poles.

Ryun, a University of Kansas freshman, now adds his mile mark to the world record of 1:44.9 in the half mile he had pending recognition. His 880 mark came at Terre Haute, Ind., on June 10. The previous month in Los Angeles, the youngster from East Wichita bettered the American two-mile record at 8:25.2.

Not since Britain's Sydney Wooderson broke the record of another Kansan, Glenn Cunningham, with a 4:06.4 in 1937, has an American owned the mile record. Cunningham ran a 4:06.8 in 1934.

En route to the mile, Ryun also was clocked with the second fastest 1,500 meters of all time—3:36.1, an American record topped only by the 3:35.6 by Herb Elliott of Australia in the 1960 Olympics.

Standing 6-foot-2 and weighing 155, Ryun says, "I like any distance—a half mile, 1,500 meters, mile or two miles."

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) The only thing husky Jim Wiechers didn't like about winning the 63rd Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament Sunday was that he had to beat his friends to do it.

"It is very hard to play your pals," said the 21-year-old Wiechers after he had defeated Bob E. Smith 3 and 2 in the scheduled 36-hole finals match over the Edina Country Club course.

The two finalists along with Ron Cerrudo of San Rafael and San Jose State and Ross Randall of Alameda, Calif., drove here together from California.

Wiechers beat Cerrudo 3 and 2 in Friday's quarter-finals.

Kochheiser Edges Third In 8-7 Tilt

Winners Undefeated In Local Program's Pony Division

Kochheister handed Third National Bank its second loss, 8-7, Saturday in what could have been the Pony League game of the season.

The Hardwaremen kept their record unblemished with seven straight wins. The Bankers, the only team in the loop in contention, dropped to 6-2.

The game originally started Thursday but rain forced the postponement after the score was tied.

Kochheiser won in the eighth frame on a single tally.

Steve Thomas pitched the complete game for the winners, fanning 18 and walking seven. He scattered eight hits.

Tom Bowers worked for Third National, issuing three walks and eight hits and striking out five.

Dave Ogan supplied the punch for the winners, slamming a triple and a double. Rod Kasler doubled for Kochheiser.

Chris MacKenzie doubled for Third National.

Kansas Duffer Cops Publinx

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — If you dig into the records there probably never was a major golf championship that brought more smiles to duffers than the National Public Links Tournament.

The 41st crown of this grass roots competition was won Saturday by Monty Kaser of Wichita, Kan., a 155-pounder who captured the state amateur title in Kansas in 1962 and was runner-up this year.

He defeated a big, blond blaster, 190-pound Dave Ojala of Two Harbors, Minn., a pharmacy student at the University of Minnesota, 6 and 5 over the scheduled 36-hole route Saturday.

CHARTER MEMBERS
...consumer, owner, too

In 1929 Everett and Lily Grabill moved to their fine farm home on Rt. 1, Orient, Ohio. For the first ten years they were without a utility that they now take for granted — electric power. In early 1939 the Grabills were one of the first in their area to be connected to the lines of South Central Power. They're only one of a still sizeable group of charter members who remain on South Central's service system.

When dependable South Central power was installed the Grabills bought an electric refrigerator and an electric washer. After that came a host of small appliances, toasters, irons, etc. "We think we've stopped buying things that are run by electricity," says Lily Grabill, "then pretty soon something else comes along that we can use to ease the chores."

Everett Grabill uses electric power on his corn crib elevator, in several water pumps, in automatic waterers for the hog farm and hen house.

"There was a little difficulty at first," the Grabills say, "but you have to expect that with any new service. In recent years we've been getting wonderful service — exceptionally good service. We often think 'What in the world would we do without electricity?' "

South Central is proud of charter members like the Grabills, proud to serve them as both consumers and owners.

Washington C.H. Entry Grabs Challenge Cup

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — Interloper, owned by the Rendevous Stable of Washington Court House, Ohio, won the silver division of the $40,000 Challenge Cup at Roosevelt Raceway Saturday night. Archie Niles Jr. drove Interloper ($8.20) as he held off Evans Hanover and Express Rodney.

Kansas Duffer Cops Publinx

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — If you dig into the records there probably never was a major golf championship that brought more smiles to duffers than the National Public Links Tournament.

The 41st crown of this grass roots competition was won Saturday by Monty Kaser of Wichita, Kan., a 155-pounder who captured the state amateur title in Kansas in 1962 and was runner-up this year.

He defeated a big, blond blaster, 190-pound Dave Ojala of Two Harbors, Minn., a pharmacy student at the University of Minnesota, 6 and 5 over the scheduled 36-hole route Saturday.

CHARTER MEMBERS
. . . consumer, owner, too

In 1929 Everett and Lily Grabill moved to their fine farm home on Rt. 1, Orient, Ohio. For the first ten years they were without a utility that they now take for granted — electric power. In early 1939 the Grabills were one of the first in their area to be connected to the lines of South Central Power. They're only one of a still sizeable group of charter members who remain on South Central's service system.

When dependable South Central power was installed the Grabills bought an electric refrigerator and an electric washer. After that came a host of small appliances, toasters, irons, etc. "We think we've stopped buying things that are run by electricity," says Lily Grabill, "then pretty soon something else comes along that can use to ease the chores."

Everett Grabill uses electric power on his corn c elevator, in several water pumps, in automatic watere for the hog farm and hen house.

"There was a little difficulty at first," the Grabills sa "but you have to expect that with any new service. recent years we've been getting wonderful service exceptionally good service. We often think 'What in t world would we do without electricity?'"

South Central is proud of charter members like t Grabills, proud to serve them as both consumers a owners.

PGA Favorite To Be Nicklaus

AKRON, Ohio (AP) —Power-hitting Jack Nicklaus looms as an overwhelming favorite to capture the Professional Golfers Association championship at the Firestone Country Club here this week. That would give him three-fourths of a 1966 grand slam.

The blond belter from Columbus, Ohio, reached another pinnacle in his brief but illustrious golfing career by annexing the British Open crown July 8.

The Golden Bear already owns the Masters championship, but won't have a shot at the coveted slam. Svelte Billy Casper made certain of that by earning the National Open title three weeks ago in San Francisco.

Nicklaus has to be regarded as the man to beat. He has an enviable record in PGA competition, with one championship two seconds and a third in four tries.

Jack copped the tournament in 1963, tied for second in 1964 behind Bobby Nichols and was runnerup to Dave Marr a year ago.

And Nicklaus has consistently played the tough Firestone layout in impressive fashion. He won the first two World Series of Golf events on this same course in 1962 and 1963. He has the brute strength to overcome the monstrous 625-yard No. 16 hole.

Still, there are others to contend with, like Casper, the PGA's leading money-winner who was at his best with back-to-back triumphs in the National Open and Western Open.

Arnold Palmer, who will be bidding again to win the open major championship that has mysteriously eluded his grasp, can't be overlooked.

PGA tournament history show that you can't count out a dark-horse candidate. Neither Nichols nor Marr had ever won a major tournament until they scored in the PGA, and they haven't won a big one since.

The field of 170 for the golden anniversary tournament that swings into action Thursday includes 21 former titlists. Veterans Gene Sarazen and Sam Snead, both three-time winners, are entered as is hometown pro Denny Shute, who registered consecutive PGA championships in 1936 and 1937, the last man to accomplish the feat.

Another threat is Gary Player, the 1962 king. Jay Hebert, who scored the last time the PGA was at Firestone in 1960 is another in the star-studded cast.

The most notable former champion missing is Ben Hogan, the fabled Texan who played in the U. S. Open but decided to pass up the PGA.

Rental Trunk Linked To Theft of Liquor

ELMORE, Ohio (AP)—State Highway Patrolmen say a rental truck may have been used to haul 164 cases of liquor from a state liquor store which was hit by a weekend burglary.

The liquor carted away late Saturday night or early Sunday was valued at $6,000, the patrol reported. Patrolmen were told a rental truck had been seen outside the store.

Hinton Leads Cleveland to Twin Victory

Slugger Collects 3HRs, 6 RBIs In Double Bill

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Spring was a forgettable experience for Chuck Hinton this year, but he has given American League pitchers small reason to welcome summer.

The Cleveland center fielder climaxed a month-long hitting spree Sunday with a spectacular performance in the Indians' twice-over scalping of Detroit, 7-3, 15-2.

Before the shaken Tigers had managed to creep into the clubhouse, Hinton had three home runs, six runs batted in, a triple, two singles and five runs scored.

Until the middle of June, Hinton, playing irregularly, had been hitting poorly. His batting average was a meager .220 and, although he had hit between 11 and 18 homers the last four years, he had yet to hit one out of the park this season.

But on June 16, Hinton hit a pinch home run in the ninth inning against New York and he's been hardly recognizable since.

Playing full time the past month, he's been hitting at .333 clip with five homers and 14 RBI. He homered in the third inning of the opener Sunday, then came back with a three-run blast in the third inning of the nightcap, and rounded out the afternoon's festivities with another in the seventh.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Yankees, who have climbed to eighth place, took a pair from Minnesota, 4-2 and 9-6, Chicago and Baltimore split, the White Sox winning 5-1, then losing 3-2, California shut out Washington 5-0, then was edged 3-1, and Kansas City and Boston split, both games going 10 innings and both ending 3-2.

In the National League, Pittsburgh took over first place with a double win over San Francisco, 7-4, and 7-1, Philadelphia split with Los Angeles, winning 3-0, then losing 3-1, New York took a pair from Houston 4-2 and 7-5, Atlanta won a single game from Cincinnati 9-6 and St. Louis beat Chicago 4-2 in 11 innings, then lost 7-2.

With their two victories Sunday the Indians ended a fast during which they had lost five in a row and 11 of their last 12 games. In those 12 contests, Cleveland scored only 31 runs. Sunday they came up with 22.

North Viet Nam Appeals To Fellow Reds for Aid

TOKYO (AP) — North Viet Nam made an unusual appeal today for more material and moral support from its Communist allies and other nations, describing its war situation as "extremely serious." But Red China indicated it is not ready to send its soldiers into the fight.

The plea came from North Viet Nam's Fatherland Front and was addressed even to the American people in an effort to weaken the Johnson administration's political flank at home. It followed President Ho Chi Minh's decree of partial mobilization of North Vietnamese reserves Sunday.

The mobilization decree touched off speculation that North Viet Nam planned to send more regular troops into the South in reply to the intensified American air war, using the reserves to fill gaps at home. Military action in South Viet Nam suggested infiltration might be increasing already.

Three thousand U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops swept an area just below the 17th Parallel frontier where North Vietnamese division of 3,000 to 4,000 men had been reported Fighting tapered off today, but the allied force was reported to have killed 167 Reds since the operation began Friday.

But the senior American officer in South Viet Nam's 2nd Corps area, the central highlands sector, doubted that Ho's mobilization announcement would mean a massive influx of North Vietnamese reinforcements.

"I think he means that the nation is just going on more of a war footing internally," said Maj. Gen. Stanley R. Larsen. "They need more people to man the antiaircraft guns and for other defensive measures"

Red China reacted to the mobilization decree by offering again "to take all necessary actions" in support of the North Vietnamese but implied it thought they could win with their own forces. An editorial in the official Peking People's Daily said the decree showed "the unshakeable confidence of the Vietnamese people in their resolve to fight and win."

The editorial dangled the threat of Chinese intervention, declaring "we will take action any time we consider it necessary." But it emphasized that China regarded its role now as a supporting one — "The vast expanse of our country is the rear area of the Vietnamese people."

15 Waves of U.S. Bombers Pound North Viet Targets

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Fifteen waves of American bombers pounded a major oil depot in North Viet Nam Sunday and touched off 35 fires and 51 explosions in the big storage complex, the U.S. military command reported today.

US Air Force jets struck the Badon fuel depot 20 miles northwest of Dong Hoi while other Air Force planes hit another oil storage area one mile east of Badon

In South Viet Nam, fighting died down in the combined U.S Marine-South Vietnamese drive against an estimated 2,000 North Vietnamese army regulars eight miles south of the demilitarized zone separating North and South Viet Nam.

U.S headquarters reported two small-scale probing attacks by the North Vietnamese today The South Vietnamese said their force had no contact with the enemy. Earlier in the operation, which began Friday, 167 Reds were reported killed.

Allied casualties were reported light, but 13 Marines were killed when the Communists shot down a Marine CH46 troop-carrying helicopter at the start of the operation. Enemy fire also brought down an F4 Phantom jet, but the two crewmen bailed out safely. Four other helicopters were destroyed or damaged.

U.S. Air Force B52s softened up the area three times last week, and the big bombers struck again Sunday while a thousand Marines landed on the beaches just south of the border as a blocking force

"We'll just have to stay up here until we find them," said Maj. Gen. Wood B. Kyl, commander of the 3rd Marine Division. "That could take days or weeks."

No fighting of any size was reported elsewhere in South Viet Nam.

However, Vietnamese headquarters reported an upsurge in Viet Cong terrorism and harassment, including one attack three miles south of Saigon and another 18 miles east of the capital.

Farmers Union Chief Hails Milk Prop Hike

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)— Increased milk price supports by the federal government headed off a crisis that would have turned into severe shortages of all dairy products, a farm official said Sunday night.

Joseph W. Fichter of Oxford, Ohio, chairman of the Ohio Farmers Union, told the opening session of the Farmers Union State Camp that without the federal action, "dairymen would have continued to react to depressing farm prospects by selling their herds at an alarming rate."

North Viet Nam Appeals To Fellow Reds for Aid

TOKYO (AP) — North Viet Nam made an unusual appeal today for more material and moral support from its Communist allies and other nations, describing its war situation as "extremely serious." But Red China indicated it is not ready to send its soldiers into the fight.

The plea came from North Viet Nam's Fatherland Front and was addressed even to the American people in an effort to weaken the Johnson administration's political flank at home. It followed President Ho Chi Minh's decree of partial mobilization of North Vietnamese reserves Sunday.

The mobilization decree touched off speculation that North Viet Nam planned to send more regular troops into the South in reply to the intensified American air war, using the reserves to fill gaps at home. Military action in South Viet Nam suggested infiltration might be increasing already.

Three thousand U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops swept an area just below the 17th Parallel frontier where North Vietnamese division of 3,000 to 4,000 men had been reported Fighting tapered off today, but the allied force was reported to have killed 167 Reds since the operation began Friday.

But the senior American officer in South Viet Nam's 2nd Corps area, the central highlands sector, doubted that Ho's mobilization announcement would mean a massive influx of North Vietnamese reinforcements.

"I think he means that the nation is just going on more of a war footing internally," said Maj. Gen. Stanley R. Larsen. "They need more people to man the antiaircraft guns and for other defensive measures"

Red China reacted to the mobilization decree by offering again "to take all necessary actions" in support of the North Vietnamese but implied it thought they could win with their own forces. An editorial in the official Peking People's Daily said the decree showed "the unshakeable confidence of the Vietnamese people in their resolve to fight and win."

The editorial dangled the threat of Chinese intervention, declaring "we will take action any time we consider it necessary." But it emphasized that China regarded its role now as a supporting one — "The vast expanse of our country is the rear area of the Vietnamese people."

15 Waves of U.S. Bombers Pound North Viet Targets

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Fifteen waves of American bombers pounded a major oil depot in North Viet Nam Sunday and touched off 35 fires and 51 explosions in the big storage complex, the U.S. military command reported today.

US Air Force jets struck the Badon fuel depot 20 miles northwest of Dong Hoi while other Air Force planes hit another oil storage area one mile east of Badon

In South Viet Nam, fighting died down in the combined U.S Marine-South Vietnamese drive against an estimated 2,000 North Vietnamese army regulars eight miles south of the demilitarized zone separating North and South Viet Nam.

U.S headquarters reported two small-scale probing attacks by the North Vietnamese today The South Vietnamese said their force had no contact with the enemy. Earlier in the operation, which began Friday, 167 Reds were reported killed.

Allied casualties were reported light, but 13 Marines were killed when the Communists shot down a Marine CH46 troop-carrying helicopter at the start of the operation. Enemy fire also brought down an F4 Phantom jet, but the two crewmen bailed out safely. Four other helicopters were destroyed or damaged.

U.S. Air Force B52s softened up the area three times last week, and the big bombers struck again Sunday while a thousand Marines landed on the beaches just south of the border as a blocking force

"We'll just have to stay up here until we find them," said Maj. Gen. Wood B. Kyl, commander of the 3rd Marine Division. "That could take days or weeks."

No fighting of any size was reported elsewhere in South Viet Nam.

However, Vietnamese headquarters reported an upsurge in Viet Cong terrorism and harassment, including one attack three miles south of Saigon and another 18 miles east of the capital.

Farmers Union Chief Hails Milk Prop Hike

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)— Increased milk price supports by the federal government headed off a crisis that would have turned into severe shortages of all dairy products, a farm official said Sunday night.

Joseph W. Fichter of Oxford, Ohio, chairman of the Ohio Farmers Union, told the opening session of the Farmers Union State Camp that without the federal action, "dairymen would have continued to react to depressing farm prospects by selling their herds at an alarming rate."
